CMA Leadership Innovation Fund 2009

The CMA Leadership Innovation Fund supports Canadian medical students and residents in the creation of non-clinical innovations that will contribute significantly to the advancement of leadership in the medical community.

We're looking for

- ideas that enhance your professional development and that of your peers
- ideas that improve the lives of patients and/or communities.

Past ideas that the fund has supported have included mentoring projects for peers, health promotion ideas for communities, and toolkits and guides to encourage rural and Aboriginal students to pursue medical studies.

Each CMA Leadership Innovation Fund recipient will be granted an amount up to a maximum of Can$2500.

To be eligible to receive this award, applicants must be members of the CMA and enrolled in a Canadian medical school as a medical student or resident at the time of the application.

Deadline: May 25, 2009

Project duration: July 2009–March 2010
